

Ref: Montgomery Group - Health & Safety Web copy

In these uncertain times I would personally like reassure all our customers – exhibitors, visitors, sponsors and other stakeholders - that myself and my teams across the 12 Montgomery Group global offices are taking every precaution to keep you, and our staff as safe as possible at any of our future events.

We have postponed all our events until November 2020 and are working tirelessly to ensure that when our events start to run again they can do so in a safe and successful way for all participants. Our senior management and operational teams are working closely with other organisers, trade associations and government bodies to contribute to and understand what measures are required in order to ensure our events are run to the highest Health and Safety Standards.

However, in recognition of the fact that each individual's health and safety needs and concerns may differ, Montgomery Group strongly recommends that each participant carefully evaluate their circumstances, needs and concerns before registering for, and or attending, any one of our events across the Globe.

If you would like more information on exactly what measures are being taken for any individual event, in any country, please do not hesitate to contact us, either via the show team whose details you will find on the show website or by emailing info@montgomerygroup.com. However please be aware that as the situation changes daily these measures will also evolve.

On behalf of the whole of Montgomery Group, stay safe and well and we look forward to welcoming you at our events again in the not too distant future.

Kind Regards,

Damion Angus

Group Managing Director
Montgomery Group